Hello Friends,

I would like to take this opportunity to THANK YOU for trusting me and electing me into this leadership position. As president, I'm excited to push Red Earth Brewers to its greatest potential and look forward to hearing all of your ideas. The brewing world is growing enormously which opens our club to many amazing opportunities. As president, it will be my goal to fairly show support to local breweries while continuing to expand our relationships in the community. This year looks very promising and holds a variety of exciting opportunities. As your leader, it is my goal to promote beginner to expert homebrewing by providing the best education available and encouraging those who are striving to perfect their craft. Your support is my priority and with that said I am eager to hear your ideas for our future. Please do not hesitate to reach out with any questions, comment or concerns. It is my dream to see Red Earths Brewers as a family, a family that comes together to share their love of beer and push each other to their best potential.
